Court of Appeals Affirms the Big Case From Mc-Cracken.

GIVES ESTATE $15,000

John G. Miller Was Attorney For the Plaintiff, Who Is Now Dead—Lost Both Legs.

THE WHOLE COURT SAT IN THE CASE

The noted case of Fred Stewart against the Illinois Central railroad was finally settled this morning in the court of appeals at Frankfort by the court affirming the judgment of the lower court, which was for $15,000. The case went up from Mc-Cracken after two trials.

Stewart was a switchman in the yards here, and one morning about three years ago in throwing a switch, his toe was mangled. He attempted to continue work, and near Broadway finally fell from the engine in a faint, and the wheels cut off both legs.

He sued for damages and was at the first trial awarded $10,000. A new trial was granted and the second verdict was for $15,000. The railroad attorneys moved for a new trial, but the motion was overruled and an appeal taken.

Stewart went to Springfield, Mo., to reside, and there a year or two ago died from smallpox. The case had been in the court of appeals for over a year, and the decision of the court will place about $15,000 in Stewart's estate, the administrator of which is Mr. Felix Rudolph.

Mrs. Stewart resides in Springfield, Mo., and was notified by telegraph of the decision.

The decision of the court today increases the original judgment of $15,000 to over $18,000 on account of the interest added, and the payment of costs.

Attorney John G. Miller was the attorney in the case.

Three other cases were affirmed by the court of Appeals today. One was that of Selbert and others against L. Bloomfield, administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Margaret Grief. Miss Mary B. E. Grief and others had several personal claims against the estate, amounting to one thousand dollars or more, and the lower court gave a judgment for the amounts and ordered promptly sold to satisfy them. The court of appeals now affirms the lower court.

The case of H. Well & Sons against Sturgis, on account for a small amount of about $60, won by the defendant in the lower court was affirmed.

The case of Rice against Rice's administrator was also affirmed. This was on an insurance policy payable to the deceased's estate. A woman he had been living with claimed a share and the lower court decided against her, ordering the money paid to the estate, and the appellate court affirmed.

CLOSE SATURDAY.

NO BIDS FOR CUSTOM HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS AFTER SATURDAY.

The bids for improvements at the government building recently authorized by the treasury department will be opened Saturday. They are for a wall on the North side of the building, a driveway, and improvements on the buildings.

Bids for furnishing coal for next year will again be called and the contract probably let. The other bids were all rejected by the department.

THE ELKS.

TOMORROW NIGHT THE BUILDING PROPOSITION TO BE CONSIDERED.

Tomorrow night at the regular meeting of the Elks the purchase of a home will probably be considered. There is some opposition to buying in the business part of town, and many are not in favor of buying at all just now, deeming it wise to wait awhile. Nothing has been done towards purchasing the Leech building, and it is likely the action authorizing it, will be reconsidered at tomorrow's meeting. A large attendance is probable.

Says the Louisville Times of yesterday: There is a strong sentiment among Kentucky Elks to establish a state headquarters at the Milwaukee reunion. It is very likely that this will be done. In point of numbers Louisville lodge will be but poorly represented at the Milwaukee reunion. So far only two members have stated they would go. Members of the Louisville lodge of Elks are strongly opposed to a national Elks' home. The sentiment here is that each lodge should take care of its dependents and that a national home would become an eyesore.

GIVEN THE LOWEST FINE. W. J. Cotham, the man who was charged with obstructing a public highway at Clark's river by mooring a raft at the road, was tried before Justice Barber yesterday afternoon and fined $5 and costs, the lowest penalty.

We ask our young readers to read the article addressed to them in the editorial columns today.

MAD DOG BITE

BOY FROM THE MAXON'S MILLS SECTION BROUGHT IN TODAY.

W. A. Cox, a farmer of the Maxon Mills section, brought his nine-year-old son, Roy Cox, to the city this morning and had Captain Joe Fowler's famous mad stone applied to a wound in his right ankle. The little fellow was bitten by a supposed mad dog Monday afternoon and an ugly wound inflicted on his right ankle. The mad stone was applied early this morning and stuck to the wound.

AGED COUPLE.

THE GROOM AGED 70, SAID TO BE FROM PADUCAH.

A dispatch from Hopkinsville states that Dr. Washington Smith, aged 70, a dentist of Paducah, and Miss Elizabeth Boales, aged 73, of Christian county, were married at Pembroke, Ky. The couple evidently think that one never gets too old to enjoy life. If Dr. Washington Smith is from Paducah, however, no one could be found who ever heard of him. He may be a resident of the county.

OWNER FOUND.

The $680 found in a stocking yesterday afternoon by a boy and turned over to Marshal Collins proved to be the property of Mr. G. H. Christy. Mrs. Christy had gone to the city to make a few purchases and deposit the money, and finding that the banks were closed when she started home, made no effort to deposit it. She lost it on her way back, and did not miss it until Mr. Christy saw the item in the paper about the money being found and hastened home, finding that it was his own. The boy who found it was Oscar Poulson, who was given a $20 bill as a reward.

DEATH AT FULTON.

Mr. A. P. McCordle, a pioneer citizen of Fulton, aged 73, died at Fulton and was buried yesterday. He had been ill for some time from heart failure.

THE TEMPERATURE.

Yesterday the mercury went to 96 in the shade and today will go nearly as high. The minimum today was 67, and at noon the temperature was 90. The rainfall last evening was not quite half an inch.

VERY LITTLE DAMAGE.

There was quite a blow yesterday afternoon late in this section. The report that there was a water spout near Water Valley was a mistake. There was a heavy rain, but that was all, and no damage was done of consequence. The washing away of one telegraph pole disarranged some of the wires.

ABOUT THE CITY

The Council Will Elect a Milk and Meat Inspector Monday.

ARE NO APPLICANTS YET

The Sewerage System Reported to Be Working Well—City Improving Its Drainage in Several Places.

DOG LICENSES COMING IN SLOWLY

From Wednesday's daily.

The milk and meat inspector to be elected under the ordinance passed Monday by the council will be elected at the regular meeting next Monday night. Thus far there are no applicants for the place but the candidates will probably begin to show up before Monday.

Sewerage Inspector George A. Gardner states that the cleaning of the sewers, just completed, shows that the system was in excellent condition. The only places that had become any ways foul were where few connections have been made and there was not enough water to float away the sewerage. The Harrison street line, which had been in use since 1897, needed no cleaning at all. The report of the inspector shows that the sewerage system is a great success.

The collection of city taxes averages $600 a day, and the total collection since June 1 is about $6,000.

There have been 258 dog licenses issued since May 1 but the number usually runs to between 500 and 600 every year. It is probable that warrants will have to be issued before the delinquents can be made to pay.

Sewerage permits issued this month promise to be in excess of those last month. There have thus far been ten plumbing and two yard sewer permits issued by Inspector Gardner.

Mayor Lang is building an addition to his house and yesterday's rain came at a most inopportune time. It blew the tarpaulin off the roof and washed all the new plastering off, as well as otherwise damaging the rooms.

Street Inspector Uterback has two gravel gangs at work patching the streets. One is at work on South Third and one on North Sixth. The city is now getting its gravel at the Gholson pit in the county.

The work of changing the drainage of the alley adjoining Rehkopf's cigar factory, on Court street, is in progress. The alley back of Wallerstein's has already been completed.

The business houses on South Third street between Broadway and Court streets, will not be required to connect with the sewerage, as ordered to do a few days ago by the health authorities and sewerage inspector. It was subsequently learned that the buildings drain back and in order to free the gutter of the stagnant water Street Inspector Uterback is laying drain pipes and filling the gutters with gravel. The pipes drain into the storm water sewers at Third and Broadway. One side of the street has been completed and the other will be finished by tomorrow.

The hospital committee has not yet finished its investigation of the city physician affair, and will some time this afternoon hear more evidence. Its report will be made to the council at the regular meeting Monday night.

The public improvement committee of the council met yesterday afternoon late and opened bids for the work of extending Central fire station in order to make room for the new aerial ladder and truck. They found from the bids that some of the contractors had figured on one thing and some on another and for this reason rejected all bids and will have specifications drawn for the work and call for other bids.

The Thompson laundry has been ordered by Sewerage Inspector Gardner and Health Officer to connect with the sewerage. For some time past water from the laundry has run over the sidewalk into the gutter from the alley on Court, near Rehkopf's.

Construction Engineer L. A. Washington, of the Illinois Central, is in the city to begin the work of repairing First street where the railroad tracks pass. The council ordered this done at a meeting a week or two ago. Work will begin as soon as the material arrives.

DEATH IN THE CITY HOSPITAL. Mrs. Emeline Floyd, aged 73, died last night in the city hospital from general debility after a several weeks' illness. She was born in West Tennessee, and the remains will be buried in the Hough graveyard.

POLICE COURT.

NEIGHBORHOOD ROW AND ONE PLAIN DRUNK FOR ADJUDICATION.

There were but three cases in the police court this morning. Bill Brownfield, colored, was fined $1 and costs for a plain drunk. There were two cases, one against Mrs. Lizzie Kates and one against Mrs. Lillie Bass, charged with using insulting language towards one another. It seemed to have been a family disturbance and the court dismissed the warrants and recognized them in the sum of $100 for their good behavior.

OUR BENTON LETTER.

Benton, Ky., June 11.

Editor Sun:

Since the first day of January there has been raging in the vicinity of Oak Level an infectious disease, which has puzzled alike residents and local physicians for a name. Some contend that it is one thing and some another, while a great many claim that it is no more or less than smallpox. In some cases whole families have been affected and in all 28 cases have developed within a radius of two or three miles of Oak Level. No measures have ever been taken to warn the public of their danger or to prevent the spread of the disease, whatever it may be, until last Monday when the local board of health, consisting of Drs. Thomas, Stone and Stilly, met at the court house and directed Dr. H. N. Robertson, of Sharpe, the health officer of this county, to go to Oak Level, examine the cases and report as to the nature of the disease; he promised to do so and the officials here were surprised to receive a letter from him Wednesday saying he did not have time to go and would not go. Citizens of Oak Level and vicinity have become alarmed at the spread of the disease and the light manner in which it has been treated by physicians and health officer. The county judge, however, has taken the matter up and will have an investigation made today or tomorrow.

Some of those who have the disease are Rev. T. F. Harrison and wife, Rev. Harrison has about recovered but his wife is quite low; Mrs. Joe Hendrickson and children, Commodore Riley and John Arant. Republicans of Smith magisterial district are jubilant over the nomination of Col. Alex. Fulton of Hardin, for justice of the peace. Although the district is Democratic they think Mr. Fulton's personal popularity among Democrats will carry him through.

There is a lively spot going on between the two Democratic papers of this county, Tribune and Democrat, in which such choice words as "liar," "traitor" and other mild phrases are freely and lavishly used. The trouble seems to be in determining which is the "mostest" Democrat and "orthodoxest." We Repubs can only set on the fence and smile with the serenity of disinterested spectators and encourage them both to "Lay on, McDuff and damned be he, who cries enough." I always enjoy a fight between Democrats for whoever gets "a lickin'" gets only what he deserves.

There is being one of the largest tobacco crops set that has been put out for years.

The Democrat announces this week the discovery of oil near Benton. We have heard nothing of any oil well closer than Texas, perhaps after all it was only the fumes of gas escaping from the sanatorium, sanctum of the editor's private studio.

MARION C. HARDY.

OFFICERS NOMINATED.

CAULKERS MEET AND CHOOSE CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE.

The Caulkers' union met and nominated officers last night. The following is the list of the officers elected: Perry Bryant, president, no opposition; Tobe Murray and George Garvey, vice presidents; Barney C. Davidson and John Smith, corresponding secretaries; Wes Swartz, financial secretary, without opposition; Elmer Eggelson, treasurer; Ishman Ward and Harry Farris, guide; John Waters and Ed Morton, guardian.

The election and installation will take place the first meeting in July.

The Carpenters and Joiners' union met last night and elected officers for the next year. The vote resulted as follows: W. P. Kirkpatrick, president; Walter Ingram, financial secretary; John C. Reavis, recording secretary; J. R. Price, treasurer; E. B. Sanders, conductor; E. R. Harden, warden; George Watts, trustee; delegates to central body, T. H. Wallace, Ira G. Wolf and A. J. Grouse.

The following is a list of the officers elected by the Potters' union at last night's meeting: President, W. L. Puckett; vice president, J. A. Overstreet; corresponding secretary, W. B. Murrell; financial secretary, James Ware; treasurer, George Nolte, guide; G. Fowler; sergeant-at-arms, George Matlock. The union starts off with a membership of thirty.

BERTHA BEASLEY'S STORY

Thirteen-Year-Old Girl Claims She Was Taken to Livingston Point and Badly Mistreated.

POLICE ON THE CASE ALL MORNING

From Wednesday's daily.

Mrs. Elaine Beasley, who lives on a shanty boat near the mouth of Island Creek, called at police headquarters this morning with her thirteen-year-old daughter, Edith May, and wanted warrants for a crowd of whom she claims induced her daughter to go to a "play party," and kept her all night and a day up about Livingston Point. According to the story told there was a most revolting plot to get the girl away for immoral purposes. Night before last two strange women called at the boat and asked that the girl be allowed to attend a "play party" they were giving a number of girls about her age on Tennessee street. She would be brought back before the cars stopped running they said. The girl was permitted to go, the mother, who seems to be a simple kind of woman, feeling no hesitancy. Nothing was said about any men being in the party.

After walking a mile or more, according to the girl's story, they came to a skiff. There were all told, including the two women and girl, four women and four men. The girl here objected to going any further and claims the men then drew pistols and forced her to go.

They all went up to Livingston's Point, and to a lake in that vicinity where the party prepared to have a good time. They remained all night and all day yesterday, the girl claiming that she could not induce them to bring her back home. They returned about 7 o'clock last night.

Believing that she had not told all, Prosecuting Attorney Campbell and Judge Sanders this morning questioned the girl closely, and she finally said that she had been criminally assaulted by one of the men while the other men and the women held her. She begged the women to help her, she declared, but they refused, and at least one of the men outraged her. Marshal Collins, County Attorney Graves and Prosecuting Attorney Campbell were at work on the case all the morning.

Dr. B. B. Griffith was called to make an examination of the girl, and the result confirmed her claim to a certain extent.

Warrants were issued against John Bulger, Frank Elch and wife, Minnie Gaynor and will be against the others who were in the party when their names are learned for rape, conspiracy to rape, and detaining a woman.

Officers Harlan and Clark arrested John Gaynor, John Bulger and Frank Elch this afternoon, and they were committed to jail to await a hearing tomorrow. The others have not been arrested, but officers are after them.

SWIMMING POOL.

Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS FAVOR ONE IF MONEY CAN BE RAISED.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. met last night and discussed the swimming pool proposed by Secretary Escott some time ago. It was decided to have the pool constructed if the necessary money could be raised by subscription. The members of the association who hold $5 tickets will be requested to subscribe an additional $5 if they desire to take advantage of the pool if built. Those holding $3 will be taxed an additional $3 also. In this way the necessary funds will be raised without trouble it is thought. Limit will be placed on the number of persons using the pool and the remainder will be put on the waiting list and will be given the preference. The pool will be constructed on the same plan as the pools in other cities. It will be 20x40 and from 8 to 10 feet deep. The other conveniences such as rings, springboards and the other athletic arrangements will be placed in, and one of the best pools in the state will be constructed.

LOUISVILLE DECLINES

HER GUN CLUB CANNOT ARRANGE FOR A TOURNAMENT WITH PADUCAH.

Mayor Lang, president of the Paducah Gun club, today received a letter from the Louisville Gun club declining the challenge of the Paducah club for a match shoot to be held here at some convenient time.

The challenge of the Paducah Gun club was sent several days ago, and the reason Louisville declines is that many of her members are professional men and cannot get away from business.

Mexico and Austria have resumed amicable relations and a Mexican minister has been appointed to Austria.

STATE BAPTISTS

The Meeting at Murray is Being Well Attended—Interesting Discussions.

HEADLESS BODY KNOWN

Robert Morris Acquitted of Murder at Hopkinsville—Pretty Girl Creates Sensation at Henderson.

SENSATION AT FRANKFORT LAST NIGHT

MINISTERS AT MURRAY.

Murray, June 12.—There is a good attendance of the State Baptist Ministerial conference here, and the weather is cooler and more conducive to a profitable meeting. Today the conference discussed "Marriage and Divorce."

HEADLESS BODY IDENTIFIED.

Lowell, Mass., June 12.—The headless body of a woman found near here, the head of which was found last night, has been identified as that of Mrs. Margaret Blondin, whose husband is missing. It is thought she suffered the same fate as Pearl Bryan.

GIRL CREATES SENSATION.

Henderson, June 12.—A pretty girl stranger in man's attire created a sensation by appearing on the streets here last night.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER.

MAYFIELD MARRIAGE.

YOUNG LADY FORMERLY OF PADUCAH, MARRIES THERE.

Miss Laura Smith, formerly of Paducah, and quite popular here, was married last night at Mayfield to Mr. Cam T. McNutt. The ceremony was performed at the Christian parsonage by Rev. Thornton and was a quiet wedding.

The groom is in the tinware business, and has many friends. Miss Smith left Paducah for Mayfield to reside about a year ago.

DEATH SENTENCE COMMUTED.

Little Rock, June 12.—Gov. Davis tonight commuted the death sentence of J. C. Butler of Benton county to life imprisonment. Butler was convicted and sentenced to be hanged for the murder of his daughter Miss Ocie Butler, May 13, 1899. The evidence was circumstantial. Miss Julia Butler, another daughter of the accused, appeared before the governor today and made a plea that her father's life be spared. The case is one of the most noted in Arkansas criminal annals.

BLACK LIST DECLARED LEGAL.

Chicago, June 12.—Judge Watterman, sitting in the circuit court, announced a decision that the blacklisting of the name of girls by a stock yard firm was legal. The girls struck last February and the firms affected refused to take them back. The case will be appealed.

A DAILY THOUGHT.

To despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing but cowardice.

The British are not discouraged with recent events in South Africa, so a dispatch tells us. They are thinking of how much worse it has been.

The British, German and French soldiers are still having trouble in Pekin, but no one has heard of any open tackling the American soldiers.

Even Father Time can't escape the ubiquitous Pierpont Morgan. The latest reports from Europe are that he has got a pinch on time by morning a watch trust.

The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian church has decided that members of secret societies are ineligible to positions in Paradise. The same evening this august body decided the momentous question, Rev. Samuel Jones became a Myrtle Shriner. But Sam probably doesn't care. He didn't stand any show of getting to heaven anyway.

The doctors are great sticklers for ethics. A motion was made in the American Medical Society now in session at St. Paul, Minn., to revise the code, but it was at once vigorously opposed, and by vote action postponed for one year. The doctors won't stand any monkeying with their code of ethics. It is the one hard spot in their hearts that can't be touched.

A farmer's son near Toledo, Ohio, read time novels, and the first thing he knew he was a banditti and stabbed his little sister through the heart, killing her instantly. He then strangled his 13 year old brother to death, and finding no one else to annihilate fired the barn, and as it was lighting up the midnight sky he gave it a dramatic ending by firing a bullet through his temple. The next day there were several inquests in the neighborhood—but fewer boys and no dime novels.

Gen. Chaffee has expressed himself in favor of the establishment of civil government in the Philippines as soon as possible. Some apprehension is reported since the decisions in the Porto Rican cases, that there will be a deficit in the revenues and necessitate an appropriation of congress. The generals seem to favor the commissions suggestions for native business and educational advancement, and their dispositions are for an effectual collaboration between Gen. Chaffee and Judge Taft.

Rear Admiral Schley has found out that the American people are as quick to show their enthusiastic admiration for a man as they often are to display forcible disapprobation. Thursday in New York he thought he was incognito when some one "discovered" him in a crowd and there was at once a rush for him that came near resulting in his complete undoing. On and on the crowd surged until he was hedged in completely by the ocean of humanity, and had to agree to shake hands with everybody in order to escape alive. After he had shaken with hundreds, the police arrived and forced a gangway, and the distinguished officer was suffered to depart.

There is a great deal of complaint about the manner in which the market house is blockaded every morning by wagons that have no business on the square and could easily take some other route when they desire to pass in that part of the city. The market house and the surrounding thoroughfare is much too small for even the vehicles that might be expected to be found there, but every morning when the place is busiest, large transfer wagons, delivery wagons and other vehicles that would be obstructions in themselves, attempt to get through the tangle of wagons, and the result is a blockade that sometimes is not broken for half an hour. All wagons have a legal right on the market, but it would be wise for the city council to pass a law requiring all unnecessary wagons to keep off the market square during market hours. Many times the grocery wagons that are taken to the market to fill orders can not get within hailing distance of the place.

There is a great deal of complaint about the manner in which the market house is blockaded every morning by wagons that have no business on the square and could easily take some other route when they desire to pass in that part of the city. and when the darkey thought he had done well enough for the day, pulled out his line and left. The disgruntled sportsman examined his bait-can after he had vanished and found that he was using a mixture of worms, liver and buttermilk. It was so late that they had to start for home, but they are preparing for another trip in order to try the kind of bait he used and see if it had anything to do with his luck.

TO MAKE BUSINESS GROW. The men and women familiar with any merchant's name, familiar with his methods, are few compared to those who know nothing about him. The secret of commercial success is in attracting the attention of that great multitude. Fill your store; make your plant. The work is only half done; make it known.

"A man," says the Philadelphia Record, "who should plant flower seeds and expect them to germinate and the plants to flourish and reach maturity without any further attention would have his trouble for his pains. A man who should start a business venture and expect it to become successful without the aid of publicity would also waste his time and cash. A business needs advertising quite as much as plants need air and sunshine and freedom from choking weeds."

$100 REWARD, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. Observationsat Random

A Kansas paper, in answering the question, "Does it take money to run a newspaper?" remarks: "What an exaggeration; what a whopper. It has been disproved a thousand times. It doesn't take money to run a newspaper. It is not a business venture. It is a charitable institution, a begging concern, a highway robbery. B'Godfrey, a newspaper is a child of the air, a creature of a dream. It can go on and on; and when any other concern would be in the hands of a receiver and wound up with cobwebs in the window."

"It takes wind to run a newspaper; it takes gall to run a newspaper. It requires scintillating, acrobatic imagination, and a half dozen white shirts and a railroad pass to run a newspaper. But money—heavens to Betsy and six hands around—whatever needed money in conducting a newspaper! Kind words is the medium of exchange that do the business of the editor—kind words and church social tickets. When you see the editor with money, watch him. He'll be paying his bills and disgracing his profession. Never give money to an editor. Make him trade it out—he likes to swap."

"Then when you come to die, after you have stood around for years and sneered at the editor and his little jim crow paper, be sure and have your wife send in for three copies by one of the weeping children, and when she reads the generous and touching notice about you, forswear her to neglect to send fifteen cents to the editor. It would overwhelm him. The editor knows it, and what he wants is your heartfelt thanks, then he can thank the printers and they can thank the grocers. Take your job work to the other offices and then come and ask half rates for the church notices. Get your lodge letter heads and stationery printed out of town, and then flood the editor with resolutions of respect and cards of thanks. They make such easy reading; and when you pick it up filled with those glowing and vivid mortuary articles you are so proud of your little local paper."

"But money—scorn the filthy thing. Don't let the pure innocent editor know anything about it. Keep that for the sordid tradespeople who charge for their wares. The editor gives his bounty away. The Lord loveth a cheerful giver. He'll take care of the editor. He has a charter from the state to act as a door mat for the community. He will get the paper out somehow and stand up for the town, whom it up for you when you run for office and lie about your pigeon-toed daughter's wedding, and blow about a big-footed son when they get a $4 a week job, and weep over your shriveled body, and smile at your wife's second marriage. Don't worry about the editor, he'll get on. The Lord knows how—but somehow."

A girl at Des Moines, Ia., has gone crazy from looking at the "highway man" poster mentioned a few days ago. She was ill and her bed was so stationed that she could not escape the steady stare of the "picture man" with the pistol. The company refused to cover up the poster and the city authorities have been appealed to. The girl claims that she is so fascinated by the picture that she cannot keep her eyes off it.

Col. Ben Weille got up at 2 o'clock this morning to accompany a crowd of friends who had promised to meet him down town, across the river to spend the day fishing. Not a one of the crowd showed up, and Mr. Weille spent the time until daylight and breakfast walking the streets, waiting for the old town to wake up. The next time he makes an engagement to go fishing it will be with himself. He will then be sure of not breaking it.

A fair example of what nickel novels will do for those who usually read them, happened in Paducah. There was a number of boys who bought a library every week and when through with it would trade among themselves and in this way every boy in the gang would get to read all the papers. Finally a "Nick Carter" club was organized and divided into two sides. The sides became deadly enemies and would carry on every night. The thing got so bad that the members began to buy flint guns and to use real loaded shells in the so-called "sham battles." One of the captains was shot in the head and was later on arrested for shooting inside the city limits and this broke the gang up.

The same "captain" who was peppered in the head, one day stole his big brother's pistol and in company with another boy hid himself down to the river to practice shooting. About 75 shells were consumed in shooting at a trot line buoy without the satisfaction of even hitting within ten feet of the mark. A colored youth, well known to both boys, had come down to the river bank to pick up small articles out of the garbage dump, and the older youth who had charge of the pistol spied him upon the top of the embankment near several barrels.

"Drop behind that barrel, nigger," he commanded.
"I ain't gwine tow drap behin' no barrel," the boy replied evidently thinking that his commander was joking.

"I say for you to drop behind that barrel."
"Go on away white folks, I aint pestering you."
"For the third and last time, villain, I command you to drop behind that barrel," he said dramatically as he raised the gun. The colored youth treated his last command with contempt and proceeded to finish his work. The boy with the pistol, however, in true Nick Carter style slowly raised the pistol he had kept behind him and fired. The ball pierced the darkey's hat and he got behind the barrel then.

But since the Nick Carter club was disbanded three has been no other such trouble.
In a store down town a graphophone is used as an attraction for customers, and when the thing gets to working can be heard for quite a distance and naturally attracts passersby, among whom the rural element is often well represented. Some of the young men who make the place their headquarters concluded that there were other ways to have fun besides listening to the graphophone, and a practical jokers' club was organized, the object of which was to have as much fun as possible out of every yokel who came in.

One night not long ago one dropped in accompanied by half a dozen companions and after listening with open mouth to the rendition of a piece or two, cautiously approached the proprietor and asked him if they had "any thing that represented a battle or something of that sort."

"The Battle of Santiago," a very realistic piece, was on tap that night and the practical jokers saw their chance. The yokel and his friends were requested to step up near, and a handful of powder was placed behind the machine and a 22 rifle with a blank cartridge kept well to the rear, out of sight of the gaping spectators. The bugle call was sounded and the word "fire" was given the rifle was shot and the powder ignited and the yokels "lit a rag" without waiting to learn the result of the battle. They seemed to like stirring music, but that was a little more realistic than they had bargained for.

Another feature inaugurated by the Jokers' club was to make a monkey out of as many of their country cousins as they could. Some who came in were given long paper funnels and told to stand before the machine with them in their mouths and they could hear better. They took it all seriously and would often stand for fifteen minutes with a large funnel in their faces, the embodiment of stupid credulity, while the Jokers' club hung around in convenient places and laughed until their sides ached. The only satisfaction the yokels got out of it was that they imagined they were hearing better.

One of the most amusing of the many funny sights seen in the store on such occasions was when one old man was given a glass to wave as the music played. He bit so eagerly that a handkerchief was placed in his mouth, he was given another glass, and with a moth ball in each ear he proceeded to look like an escaped lunatic while he enjoyed the music as best he could under the circumstances, and the crowd was convulsed behind him.

Owing to the trouble that was caused, however, the Jokers' club has now been disbanded.

The worst place on earth to get rattled is on a street car, especially when there is a car full of inquisitive people who have nothing to do but sit and watch you. The other night an old colored woman rode out the Broadway line on a loaded car. When she reached the place she wanted to stop, she looked about her with a startled expression as she realized that she didn't know where the bell cord was, and pulled at the straps that are put there to swing on when you can't find a seat, which is about every night.

She failed to make any perceptible impression on the strap, and then tried pushing the buttons that used to be in working order some time in the long ago. She heard no responsive sound, and by this time the car was about two blocks from where she wanted to descend.

"Hey dar, mister," she finally shouted to the motorman to the intense amusement of everybody, "wy-wy doan yo' stop dis heah crah. I've pushed dem pillets and yankee de straps, an' de crah jes' keeps goin' es if twant nevah gwine stop. Lemme off, folks!"

When she finally reached terra firma she was heard to mumble that "dey might be quickah ways, but dey aint nuthin' so sho es walkin'."

THE SUN'S DAILY STORY. THE FEUD —OF THE— FERGUSONS.

By KATE M. OLEARY. Copyright, 1901, by the Daily Story Pub. Co.

"There's a buggy comin' over the hill," announced Mrs. Ferguson. "Well, if I don't believe something's gone wrong with the gear," she was peering eagerly between the sitting-room curtains of warm red chenille. "Come here, an' see, Leslie—your eyes are younger'n mine."

But the girl sitting listlessly by the little open stove did not stir nor speak. Her bright bit of knitting had fallen neglected on her lap. Upon it her slender brown hands lay clasped in the idleness of indifference. "Seems like you don't take interest in nothin' since you been up to Cartville to visit," went on her mother irritably. She sent the girl a glance in the direction of her daughter. Then she turned again to the window. "It's broke or something," she enunciated with brisk recurrence of curiosity. "The man's comin' this way. He's leading the horse. He's comin' straight here!"

It was a comfortable, common little room that wherein mother and daughter sat. The rag carpet had mellowed to dull tones and tints so subdued as to suggest the wonderful waves of the Orient. There was a glass lamp on the crocheted mat of green wool which ornamented the round walnut center table. The couple of wooden rockers had crazy-work cushions and headrests. On the shelf which did duty for a mantel was a clock, a china dog, and two frost-white glass vases decorated with scarlet roses. The yellow light of the winter afternoon came in between the chenille curtains, and gave to the oval cheek of the girl by the hearth an almost peach-like translucence. Except for that skin of childlike fairness and the lustrousness of her long dark eyes, Leslie Ferguson could hardly have been called a pretty girl. Her face in repose was sober—almost sombre. But when she was pleased, gay, animated she quite took the palm from the other girls in that part of the county. Just now her face reflected her mood, which was that of downright melancholy.

Mrs. Ferguson, still sentinel at the window, kept issuing bulletins. "He's got far as the rye patch now. First I thought 't was Ellis Dix, but it ain't. Leslie don't come here much since you got to puttin' on airs after givin' the back of Cartville. This one is taller'n Cartville. He's got a moustache too. He don't belong in these parts. You go to the back door, Leslie. I'm skeered of the wind in my face with the neutrality I got. Find out where he's from. Tell him where's the tool chest in the barn if he wants to fix his harness. There—he's knockin'!"

Mrs. Ferguson looked frowningly after the slow-moving form of her daughter. "I wish I'd never let her go visitin' to Cartville!" she was muttering to herself. In accents of annoyance. "Praps if I hadn't told her she shouldn't have had anything to say to that Rene Ferguson she'd never have thought of lookin' at him. Like as not 't was just the contrairiness of a girl that made her take up with him. An' then, to come home and throw to the Ellis Dix he was'n't worth wipin' her shoes on—him with the likeliest bunch of steers of any man in the township! Sayin' she'd marry Rene—or no one. An' now mopin' away like the life was thrown after her. You tell him where's the tool chest in the barn if he wants to fix his harness. There—he's knockin'!"

TO ALL PERSONS HAVING FARMING, TIMBERED, OR MINERAL LANDS, OR WATER POWERS FOR SALE.

The Nashville, Chattanooga St. Louis Railway proposes to use its best efforts to induce a good class of immigrants to settle in territory contiguous to its lines and to engage the attention of capitalists seeking Manufacturing Sites or Mining Property. If therefore solicits the support, the cooperation and the assistance of the people of every county through which its lines pass. The management earnestly requests that all persons who have farms for sale or lease, those who have timbered lands, water powers or mineral lands for sale, will send a brief description of the same to the railroad agent nearest them, giving the prices and terms of sale. The prices must correspond with the prices asked of local buyers. The management does not propose to aid in selling land to immigrants at exorbitant or speculative prices.

Large tracts suitable for colonization, at low prices, are especially wanted.

Healthy Old People

say the main thing to do is to keep the stomach, liver and bowels in order if you want to keep well and live long. Good physicians say the same thing, too. The remedy called while not mysterious or miraculous in its curative qualities, is a simple formula prescribed by the best physicians for disorders of the digestive organs. Just little Tablets, easy to take, easy to buy and quick to act. If your trouble is Dyspepsia, Bilioussness, Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Heartburn, and the like, no need of calling a physician. Ripans Tablets contain exactly what he would tell you to take. Permanent cure follows a fair trial. No uncertainty about it.

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

There is scarcely any condition of ill health that is not relieved by the occasional use of the R. P. A. S. Tablets, and this is true for five cents, does not harm the system, and is perfectly safe for the most delicate. For children the chocolate coated tablets are the best. For the elderly, the tablets are the best. For the sick, the tablets are the best. For the healthy, the tablets are the best. For the weak, the tablets are the best. For the strong, the tablets are the best. For the old, the tablets are the best. For the young, the tablets are the best. For the rich, the tablets are the best.
